

God's calling...

God's calling has been on my life from a very early age. I faced trials and failures in my life I would never have imagined for myself. I learned the hard way to dwell in the secret place of the most High and to abide under the shadow of the Almighty. He was truly my refuge and my fortress: my God in whom I could trust.

My desire and heart's cry is to minister God's love across the nation to those who are hurting from the pains of life; and to speak healing and God's love into their lives.

God has opened doors in my life I would never have dreamed of – giving me songs to write, messages to minister, and connecting me with incredible people at just the right time to help and stretch me beyond my capabilities. Over the past couple years, I have felt the calling to minister more to women facing the challenges of life through woman's conferences. The message He has given me is about the choices we make — how God can help us make the right choices and how He is there for us even when we make wrong choices.
